

Dear Class Five,

This week has brought such beautiful weather! I hope you are managing to spend lots of time in your garden. This week I have only a couple of little tasks for you:

★ 1. Stand and do our vowel jumping exercise 3 times. Hopefully you have cut out my stick figure drawing from week one and have pasted it into your book? Then you can always refer to it when you need to. If not do it this week. Ask mum and dad if they have time to learn it from you.

★ 2. Speak our verse once through, out loud. Then look at the sounds below and try to do them three times through whilst mum or dad speaks the verse for you, or you can look at the verse, while you try out if you remembered the sounds correctly.

When days are darkest

We started with our arms crossed over our heart, from there we took them downward and in a huge arc behind us (like wings) till they end crossed over our heads.

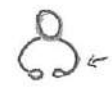

Then we open them out and bring the light into the earth, taking our arms downward.

days are darkest

The earth enshrines

 ← palms outward
 our arms burst outward on 'earth'.
 On 'enshrines' we have a little sideways gesture with our arms

The seeds of summer's birth

Here we lifted up our right hand as though it carried a seed, then opened both arms out a little  on the word summer
 and on the word birth - we did the 'burst outward gesture' again but this time upwards ( palms out) and with a little jump!

Is this as you remembered it? Let me know if this is too hard to understand. We can look at the other half of the verse next week.

☆3. Now I would like you to go out in the garden and see if you can see any beautiful autumn leaves. At this time of year I love to throw them up and run underneath them. I also love to crunch the dry leaves under my feet. Have a wonder filled week.

Love,
 Beth
